

91 THE SECRET PLACE

D                      Dsus/G                      D/F#                      G
He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.
D                      Dsus/G                      D/F#                      G
I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him will I trust.

A                      Bm                      G                      A                      A                      Bm                      G                      A
Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence.

D                      Dsus/G                      D/F#
He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust:
G                      G
His truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

D                      Dsus/G                      D/F#                      G
Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night; nor for the arrow that flieth by day;

A                      Bm                      G                      A                      A                      Bm                      G                      A
Nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness; nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday.

D                      Dsus/G                      D/F#                      G
A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee.

D                      Dsus/G                      D/F#                      G
Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.                      OPTIONAL VERSE

A                      Bm                      G                      A                      A                      Bm                      G                      A
Because thou hast made the Lord, which is my refuge, even the most High, thy habitation;

D                      Dsus/G                      D/F#                      G
There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.

D                      A                      G                      D/F#                      G
For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.

A                      Bm                      G                      A                      A                      Bm                      G                      A
They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

D                      Dsus/G                      D/F#                      G
Thou shalt tread upon the lion and adder: the young lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under feet.

D                      Dsus/G                      D/F#
Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him:

G                      G
I will set him on high, because he hath known my name.                      OPTIONAL VERSE

A                      Bm                      G                      A                      A                      Bm                      G                      A
He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble;

A                      Bm                      G                      A                      A                      Bm                      G                      A
I will deliver him, and honour him. With long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.

D                      Dsus/G                      D/F#
He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide

G                      Em-A-D
Under the shadow of the Almighty.
